CANTABILE ESPRESSIVO.

Wea-ry not, oh fainting spir-it! Of thy ri-o-ting and strife, Yield not to despair, though mer-it Be un-

Entered according to Act of Congress A. D. 1850 by Sidney Pearson in the Clerks Office of the District Court of the South? Dis. of New York.

....rec....ogniz'd in life. Wea....ry not of good and du...ty! Let thy love the world em---brace; Seek for trace of truth and beau...ty In the low...liest of thy race.

2^d VERSE.

3^d VERSE.

Be thy patience strong, enduring,
 Cultivate each noble grace;
 With a footstep firm, unfalt'ring,
 Meeting duty face to face.
 In this fair and beauteous Eden,
 All laid waste by sin and wo,
 Be an humble earnest worker,
 Surely reaping as ye sow.

Know ye not that souls are longing,
 For the breaking of that day,
 When the Truth in undimm'd splendor
 Shall assert its mighty sway?
 Courage then, oh fainting spirit!
 Toiling on life's rugged way—
 Peace and rest are thee awaiting,
 In the realms of endless day.
